

March 23, 2020

Dear ERM Students and Faculty,

You are likely to be getting lots of emails about resources, changing circumstances, and links to various services. Here we offer information about two things some of you have asked about: Library Support for your research and Free Internet services provided by Comcast in some areas of the US.

Library Support: Today Kenya Flash, one of the wonderful Yale librarians, reminded us that librarians are still providing support to faculty and students. If you need help reaching library materials, you can contact Ms. Flash at Kenya.Flash@yale.edu or at 203-432-3309.

Free Internet Access: If you live in an area served by Comcast, you are likely to qualify for free and fastest Internet Access. We are exploring this option as a department, to give more information should a student need it, but you can also refer to this article: <https://variety.com/2020/digital/news/comcast-free-broadband-low-income-households-coronavirus-1203532765/>

Stay safe!

Ana Ramos-Zayas